Invitation to be an Approved TBTP Breathworker Mentor

After training breathworkers since the late 1970s as one of the original Certified Rebirthers, I am now offering my experience in training through a newly evolved Distance Education Model available to students everywhere.

I am inviting you to consider being a TBTP Breathworker Mentor. There is no time commitment involved until you decide to offer your services to potential students you choose or are contacted by the TBTP regarding students looking for a mentor in your area. The requirements are that you have adequate training and experience, have already taken or agree to take any course you will be mentoring and that your students purchase the course recordings and materials through the Transformations web site; also that you charge a reasonable fee for your mentoring and collect it directly from the students.

The benefits of being a TBTP Breathworker Mentor are:

- You help students integrate material with which you are familiar, but do not have to formally teach. They listen to the recordings and do the exercises on handouts they purchase online www.transformationsusa.com/distance-learning.php. You help them with the experiential learning and guide them in your style, adding and embellishing from your wisdom. Suggested Course Mentoring Outlines will be available from me.
- You make contact with students who are like-spirited, a pleasure to teach and who are already your clients or who might be likely candidates for your services.
- Collegial contact with TBTP faculty and mentors - a community of breathwork exploration and innovation with regular support and inspiration available. You are carrying on a longstanding tradition of breathworker education for our planet.
- You get paid directly from the students and do not wait for payment from the Program.
- The Program will supply you with course recordings, handouts and personalized advertising materials for potential students. I am also planning on sending out several mass mailings for the Breathworker Distance Learning Program.
- You pay nothing to be an approved mentor. If your training and experience qualify, you have already demonstrated your value as a leader in the breathwork community.

You can do groups or individuals in person or at a distance. I am also planning on having the approved breathworker mentors listed on our TBTP site.

What I need from you is a brief resume and signed agreement to abide by the principles stated above (Form attached). Contact me at 414 530 4649 or jim@transformationsusa.com.
